BIOGRAPHY

From Lusikisiki to international stages.

Siphokazi, meaning The Great Gift, was born in Lusikisiki in the Eastern Cape of South Africa. She attended Kwa-zizamele Primary School and later Toli Secondary School, where she completed her matric.

In 1999, she moved to Johannesburg to study at Sibikwa Community Art Centre. In 2000, she received a bursary from the National Arts Council, which enabled her to study Music Technology at Central Johannesburg College.

While attending school at Central Johannesburg College, Siphokazi travelled to Japan with Bheki Khoza, her former lecturer, through a cultural exchange opportunity. This marked her first international trip and shaped her artistic journey.

Shortly after, she was introduced to South African music icon Tshepo Tshola, with whom she began working professionally. Beyond performance, Siphokazi is passionate about education, culture, and the development of young people.
